CIRCULAR

This is to notify that the Office of Sustainability will henceforth be renamed as the Office of Sustainability and Impact, with effect from May 1, 2026. This change reflects the expanded mandate of the office, which will now encompass not only sustainability initiatives but also the systematic assessment of outputs, outcomes and impacts across academic, research, administrative and other institutional activities.

All official communications, records and references are to adopt the revised designation: Office of Sustainability and Impact.
